The authorities are becoming anxious over the safety of the legation.

IS A BEAUTY.

New Steamer Mary Will Be Tried Sunday.

It was expected that the new steamer Mary would make her first trip tomorrow, but there is yet considerable work to be done and it was given out this morning that the trial trip would be made sometime Sunday.

The trim little steamer can well be called the pride of the Graham & Morton fleet. She is finished more like a millionaire's private yacht than like an excursion steamer. The finest of plate glass, mahogany panels and doors and heavy brass fixtures only add to the attractiveness of the boat.

The government inspectors have inspected her and pronounced her first class in every particular and her carrying capacity was placed at 600, although she would have been allowed more had the company asked it.

BAND TOURNAMENT.

Talk of One in This City During First of August.

A movement was started this morning for a monster band tournament to be held here during the first part of August. A meeting will be called the first of next week and committees appointed to raise the necessary funds.

It is the intention to raise at least $1,000 which would be divided as follows: First prize, $500 in gold; second prize, $200; third prize, $100; the remainder, $200 would be used for advertising purposes.

In view of the fact that Benton Harbor will have no Fourth of July celebration the band tournament should be a success.

WATER NOTICE.

DALLIN'S ROAD.

THE PROMOTER IS VERY CONFIDENT.

Says Cars Will Be Running Between Benton Harbor and Dowagiac in January.

Dowagiac News: Projector Dallin of the Eastern & Northwestern railroad, reiterates his assurances that January 1901 will see the cars running from Benton Harbor or near there through this city to Toledo, O.

The prime mover in the enterprise on which the people of Dowagiac are setting great hopes is very positive in every statement he makes with regard to his road. He says the people can rest assured the work will progress and the line be built in the stated time regardless of the fact that matters are now going slow.

Four more days at the present rate of progress will complete work for the present on the line east of the city; he states then the base of operations will be shifted west of us. While the force at work on the Wixson place has been small the past several days much has been accomplished and that locality, which is the eastern extremity of the first twenty-five miles on the line, will be abandoned for the time being; this to permit of the rapid completion of the line from this city to Sister Lakes.

For the past several days a gang of surveyors have been busily engaged in running this line from here to the resort and it is now located. The work here will be light owing to the excellent choice of the route and only a force of about ten teams will be employed, but it is assured that few months will see it completed. When this is done the line will be joined onto the old electric roadbed.

MORE DIVIDENDS.

Six Short Interesting Paragraphs Upon Mining Matters.

The Homestake Mine of the Black Hills paid its regular monthly dividend of $105,000 on Monday of this week.

The Calumet & Hecla paid its quarterly dividend of $1,000,000 yesterday, the 28th, being $10 on each share.

The Tamarack Copper company distributes $7 per share by its dividend of $420,000, payable today, June 29.

The shares in each of the above companies sold at a few cents on the dollar during their developmental stage, or about 90 per cent below their par value. The Tamarack now sells at 700 per cent above par, and the Calumet & Hecla at nearly 3,000 per cent above par. At their inception, the prospects of these properties merging into mines were not nearly so encouraging as the unmistakable evidences which so strongly marks the bright future of the Black Hills property. Indeed, the early development work of the Calumet produced such indifferent results that for a time the stock sold at only four cents on the dollar. Its present market value is $720 per share.

As a good grade of ore has already been found on the Black Hills Copper company's property and has been shipped to smelters with gratifying results, would it not be wise to make an investment in this stock, a limited amount of which is offered at 10 cents per share?

The management of the company's affairs is under the control of a board of directors who are prominent in business enterprises in this part of the state, and are well and favorably known. The company's office is also here where everything pertaining to the enterprise may be investigated. These facts should inspire confidence in the proposition. Call at 115 Territorial street and examine the ore taken from this property.

DELEGATES HOME.

Delegate Gore Talks of Convention.

The Benton Harbor delegates to the state republican convention have returned home. The delegates declare that Bliss is an acceptable candidate and that there are no sore spots.

In an interview this afternoon Delegate V. M. Gore, who led the break-for O'Donnell, said:

"We had assurances from the leaders of the Wayne delegation that they would break from Ferry to O'Donnell on the 18th ballot. Had they done so I am confident O'Donnell would have received the nomination. As it is, we are perfectly satisfied. Mr. Ferry himself, I believe, is satisfied. He is a cool headed statesman and inclined to be philosophical."

The delegation stood ready to support Mr. Blakeslee for lieutenant governor, but after the final ballot for governor had been taken the Gallien politician decided not to have his name presented.

Hon. Roscoe Dix appeared before the convention for the fourth time for the nomination for auditor general. He received a fair vote on the first ballot, but his strength melted away on the second.

The Borrien delegation favored the nomination of Dan McCoy, of Grand Rapids, for treasurer and of E. A. Wilsey, of Paw Paw for land commissioner.

STOLE A HORSE.

How It Was Returned to Sheriff Ferguson.

Charles Tallman, son of William Tallman, a farmer living several miles out of St. Joseph, drove into St. Joseph this morning and hitched his horse at the corner of Pleasant and Main streets.

He did a little shopping and then returned to find his horse and buggy gone. The sheriff was notified and that official immediately wired every deputy in the county to keep a sharp look out for the thief.

Sheriff Ferguson started in search himself and when last heard from was in Stevensville.

Later: The horse and buggy were turned over to Deputy Sheriff Lynn Ferguson at the jail at 2:30 this afternoon by James Scott. Scott claims he was invited to ride in the buggy by a young boy who was driving it. When he had ridden a couple of miles the boy jumped out and yelled that the horse was a stolen one. Scott drove the horse to the jail.

GIVEN TO WOOLLEY.

Illinoisan Is Prohibition Nominee for President.

HE IS CHOSEN ON THE FIRST BALLOT.

Henry B. Metcalf, of Rhode Island, for Second Place—Michigan Republicans Nominate Bliss for Governor.

Chicago, June 29.—The prohibition national convention adjourned sine die Thursday, after having placed in nomination for president John C. Woolley, of Illinois; for vice president, Henry B. Metcalf, of Rhode Island. The nominations in each instance were made on the first ballot. Only two candidates for the presidential nomination were balloted for, Mr. Woolley and Rev. Silas C. Swallow, of Pennsylvania, Hale Johnson, of Illinois, withdrawing his name at the last moment, throwing his strength to Woolley. For vice president three candidates were balloted for, H. B. Metcalf, Thomas R. Caskard, of West Virginia, and Rev. E. I. Eaton, of Iowa, Metcalf receiving an overwhelming majority.

Immediately after the announcement of the result of the ballot for the presidential nomination, Mr. Swallow was proposed as vice presidential nominee. The convention went over the suggestion, but Swallow, after a hurried conference with the Pennsylvania delegation, refused to accept the nomination. During the session Chairman Stewart, of the national committee, called for contributions, and over $7,000 were realized in a few minutes.

The Nominees.

John G. Woolley, of Illinois, prohibition nominee for president, was born in Collinsville, O., on February 15, 1850. He was graduated from Wesleyan university in 1871. He attended the University of Michigan law school and was admitted to the bar of Illinois in 1873. He was city attorney of Paris, Ill., in 1876, and state's attorney in Minneapolis from 1884 to 1886. He became a prohibitionist in 1888. He is called the "Wendell Phillips of the party." He was nominated for vice president by the Christian party this year. He resides at 5535 Cornell avenue, Chicago.

Henry B. Metcalf, of Rhode Island, prohibition nominee for vice president, was born 71 years ago. He is president of the Providence county savings bank and superintendent of the Sunday school of the Church of Our Father in Pawtucket, R. I. Mr. Metcalf was formerly a republican, but joined the prohibition party several years ago and has been prominently identified with that party since. He has been the candidate of his party for governor several times.

MICHIGAN REPUBLICANS.

Col. Bliss Nominated for Governor on Nineteenth Ballot.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 29.—The republican state convention wound up its work at dusk Thursday night, after almost continuous sessions since ten o'clock in the morning, by placing the following ticket in nomination. Mr. Bliss was named on the nineteenth ballot:

For governor, Col. Aaron T. Bliss, of Saginaw.

For lieutenant governor, O. W. Robinson, of Houghton, present incumbent.

For secretary of state, Fred M. Warner, of Farmington.

For state treasurer, Daniel McCoy, of Grand Rapids.

For auditor general, Perry F. Powers, of Cadillac.

For attorney general, H. M. Oren, of Sault Ste. Marie, present incumbent.

For state land commissioner, Edward Wildley, of Pawpaw.

For superintendent of public instruction, Delos Fall, of Albion.

For member of state board of education, James H. Thompson, of Osceola.

When the gavel fell upon the closing scene, not over one-fourth of the delegates remained in their seats. As soon as the nominations for the principal officers were completed, a motion to consider the report of the committee on resolutions at once was put and carried. The committee on order of business had left the platform to the last, but many of the delegates must remain in the city over another night unless they can catch the early train. In order to permit them to do so the platform was read before nominations for members of the state board of education were made. The report was adopted as made public Wednesday, without a dissenting voice.

The Nominee.

[Col. Bliss has been a candidate at every convention since 1892. He came within 51 votes of Pinger's total upon the deciding ballot in 1896. He was a member of the Tenth New York cavalry during the civil war and won his way from private to colonel. He came to Michigan in 1865, and has amassed a comfortable fortune in the lumber business in Saginaw. He has served as congressman from the Eighth Michigan district in the national house of representatives.]

WILL CONSULT BRYAN.

Leaders to Defer to His Wishes on Platform and Running Mate.

Kansas City, Mo., June 29.—Not even the advance guard of the democratic national convention has yet arrived. A few men in charge of arrangements for headquarters are here, and some men who are boomers of embryo vice presidential candidates are about the hotels, talking for their men. Until the leaders and delegates begin to arrive nothing tangible will develop. If the desire of those who have arrived is any indication, it is evidently the intention to conform as far as possible with the wishes of Mr. Bryan, both as to the second place on the ticket and the platform. The visits of various leaders to Lincoln indicate this, and many have notified Col. Bryan by telegraph that they intend to see him on their way to the convention.

Bryan May Be Present.

As to political news relating to the convention there is more coming to Kansas City than is being found or manufactured here. The few democrats who have arrived read the interviews and reports of the leaders who are about to start for the convention or are on their way here, and this forms the basis of most of the gossip afloat. Of course the dispatches from Lincoln have the most interest, for everybody is anxious to know what Mr. Bryan is talking about and what the men say who visit him. There is feeling that Mr. Bryan may come to Kansas City during the convention, and some of those now here think the great demonstration which would follow his appearance would carry enthusiasm all over the country and start the campaign off with a hurrah that would be beneficial. This is a matter which will be determined by Mr. Bryan and the leaders when they arrive.

Platform May Cause Contest.

There is the faintest intimation that there may be a contest over the platform. It is known that Mr. Bryan not only wants the Chicago platform reaffirmed, but that he also desires the sixteen to one declaration reiterated as strongly as it was in the Nebraska state platform. There are other democrats who think a strong reaffirmation of the Chicago platform in a few words and then to pass on to "imperialism," trusts and other new features will be sufficient. The latter course is advised as one tending to satisfy eastern demands.

The Vice Presidency.

The fact that the nomination for first place is already beyond question naturally attracts more attention to the second place, and there is some speculation about the man who is to be the vice presidential candidate with Mr. Bryan. As was the case in Philadelphia, New York occupies the center of the stage. Quite a number of names have been suggested from that state, and one candidate, Mr. Sulzer, already has headquarters opened and some enthusiastic boomers on the ground. If Mr. Sulzer comes here after his visit to Lincoln with hopes high he will get a great many delegates outside of his own state. New York has not endorsed him, but he is said to have the friendship of Mr. Croker, but there are those who will remember that hearty support on the part of the New York organization will indicate the desire of Mr. Croker. No one here pretends to explain the talk about ex-Senator Hill, and western delegates say that his announced intention of coming to Kansas City for the purpose of trying to secure a modification of the platform is sufficient to take him out of the vice presidential race. Mr. Hill, it was understood by men coming direct from Lincoln, was far from satisfactory to Mr. Bryan.

Other candidates are mentioned, including ex-Congressman B. F. Shively, of Indiana, and there is some little talk about Charles A. Towne, of Minnesota, who was nominated by the populists with Bryan. There is no doubt about the earnestness of Mr. Towne and his friends. He has headquarters engaged and the silver republicans will hold a convention simultaneously with the democratic gathering. They and the populists intend to impress upon the delegates the ability of Mr. Towne as a vote-getter and urge his nomination.

Minnesota Republicans.

St. Paul, Minn., June 29.—The republican state convention Thursday afternoon adopted a resolution endorsing Senator Knute Nelson for reelection, nominated Capt. S. R. Vansant for governor and renominated Lieut. Gov. L. A. Smith, both by acclamation.

WITNESS A FIRE RUN.

An Automobile Parade Also Marks the Second Day of Milwaukee's Carnival.

Milwaukee, June 29.—A thrilling fire run and automobile parade were the feature of the carnival Thursday afternoon.

The automobile parade was participated in by 30 of those vehicles of various designs, such as traps, brakes, cabs, victorias and others, all being owned by Milwaukeeans. The power used in the various equipages consisted of electricity, gasoline and steam. The procession moved over a three-mile course and was extremely imposing throughout.

The greatest feature of the carnival was the electrical pageant Thursday night. The pageant was made up of 20 floats, which were erected on flat cars and propelled by electricity over the lines of the street railway company. The magnificent floats were illuminated with the aid of 6,000 incandescent lights and presented a picture that words fail properly to describe. The first float was a representation of the new battleship Wisconsin, the design being minutely carried out on a small scale. A music chariot came next, which was followed by Rex, King of the Carnival, sitting on his gorgeous throne attended by his retinue. The balance of the floats were made up mostly of mythological subjects. The pageant ended with Prince Carnival and his court of merry-makers with a gust of true carnival fun, after the manner of the ancients.

Will Be a Great Celebration.

Canton, O., June 29.—The greatest Fourth of July celebration in this part of the state will be at Canton this year. President McKinley, Gen. Joe Wheeler and other notables will be here. Dewey says he will come if he goes anywhere that day. The Spanish cannon from Santiago will be presented to the city and President McKinley is expected to make a speech.

NOMINATION OF BLISS.

The nomination of Col. Bliss for governor of Michigan will please more republicans than would have been possible with any of the other candidates. The other candidates have no bitter feeling toward the winner as would have been the case if either Stearns or Ferry had won.

The nomination of Bliss will be a good thing for the republicans of this county. Since the last county convention there has been an estrangement among the members of the party and with either Stearns or Ferry there would have been an attempt to pay off old scores. Col. Bliss was out of the fight and the local wounds will be healed. Republicans on the county ticket will not be secretly fought by republicans.

There is evidently an understanding between Stearns and Bliss. The Stearns men nominated Bliss, while the Ferry men cast their fortunes with O'Donnell. There is already talk that Stearns may be a candidate against McMillan for senator and that Bliss will support him.

Senator Blakeslee and Auditor General Dix had no chance after the nomination of Bliss, as Berrien had swung against the successful candidate. Robinson was renominated for lieutenant governor by acclamation and Perry F. Powers was nominated for auditor general on the first ballot.

The convention had a harmonious ending save for the fight by the delegates from Detroit. And the democrats have no hope of defeating the ticket named.

THE Wabash Plaine dealer has begun war on the miserable Big Four depot at that place. It wants the people to rise up in their might and protest. Benton Harbor will watch the result and from it will decide whether an effort of the same sort here would be a waste of energy. If Wabash makes the statement that the Big Four depot in that city is worse than the pig pen used for a station here Benton Harbor will be ready to quarrel over the proposition. For the amount of business furnished the road Benton Harbor claims the distinction of having the worst depot on the line.

A Great Day in the History of the Michigan Town.

THE DEWEY CANNON IS UNVEILED.

Thousands of Visitors Witness the Exercises—Miss Helen Gould Is the Honored Guest of the Occasion.

Three Oaks, Mich., June 29.—This little city was overcrowded with visitors on Thursday, the occasion being the unveiling of the Dewey cannon. This cannon, it will be remembered, was donated by Admiral Dewey to the national monument committee to be given by them to the town or village contributing the most to the memorial in proportion to population. Three Oaks entered the contest, won out, and on Thursday formally unveiled and dedicated the preeminent trophy of the Spanish-American war to which is attached the personality of Admiral Dewey. Thursday was a red-letter day in the history of Three Oaks. Ten thousand persons came by carriages, schedule trains and specials, all arriving by noon in time to witness all features of the celebration.

The reception committee at 12:45 p. m. went to Niles to welcome Miss Gould. Mayor E. K. Warren, Hon. J. L. McKie and Messrs. Warren, Hall and Davis constituted this committee which had so delightful a pleasure before them. After waiting a few moments at Niles they were picked up by Michigan Central train No. 15, on which they found Miss Gould and her party, consisting of Dr. and Mrs. Palen, Misses Palen, Edwards and Colen, and Mr. J. B. Walker, and Gen. Withington, of Jackson. Gen. Alger was also greeted on the same train, and the party pulled into Three Oaks at 2:25 amid thundering cheers.

A reviewing stand had been constructed underneath a magnificent willow tree, and thither the party repaired to review a procession under the direction of Alva Sherwood, marshal of the day. The procession was divided into two divisions. The first containing the marshal and aids, Mills' military band, company I, of the Thirty-third Michigan volunteers, representatives of the G. A. R., the Dewey club, of Hastings, Mich., and individual guests on ponies and carriages. The second division was headed by the Three Oaks military band, followed by civic societies, the fire department, St. Joseph wagons and carriages. This procession occupied some three-quarters of an hour to pass, after which the way was again cleared through the crowds by competent guards and marshals, and Miss Gould, on the arm of Mayor Warren, walked to the speakers' platform, which had been conveniently arranged near the Dewey cannon mound. The other guests followed and took their places. The chorus of 250 voices having already seated themselves in their chairs immediately back of the speaker's stand.

After a selection by the Hastings' band, the chorus rose to support Miss N. Estelle Harrington, of Chicago, who sang the verses of the Battle Hymn of the Republic. Prayer by Rev. Dr. M. H. Marten, of Ovid, was followed by an address of greeting by Mayor Warren. The mayor was followed by Gen. Alger in an eloquent address, and then after singing by the big chorus Dr. W. E. Barton, of the First church of Oak Park, Chicago, delivered the oration of the day on the theme: "Victories of Peace and War." In closing Dr. Barton read greetings from the president and the admiral, with notice of the official condemnation of the cannon and its custody being placed in the hands of the village president, with the order that it should not be fired. The line of Dr. Barton's thought led up to the unveiling of the cannon.

Preparatory to this Mr. Warren led Miss Gould to the edge of the platform, saying: "I take pleasure in speaking for you and for millions more in this great nation who hold in love and reverence the name of Helen Miller Gould." Before touching the button she turned to President Warren and said: "It gives me great pleasure indeed to be present and take part in the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the Dewey cannon." Miss Gould was greeted with repeated and continued cheers. As the friend of the soldiers of the army and navy she gracefully acknowledged this, and at the proper time touched an electric button which released a spring to the tent-like canopy enveloping the cannon, the canopy dividing in eight sections, each section falling on the green turf of the mound below, outlining an eight-pointed red, white and blue star. The effect was indescribable. The assembled people had been standing in expectancy through the act, and when the white, inconspicuous tent unfolded like a flower and showed the brilliant colors of our national flag and revealed to view the relic of the great Manila battles, the crowd went nearly mad with cheering.

The chorus was invited to sing the first two stanzas of "America" while the crowd moved back a little from the mound to view the passage of Miss Gould and Gen. Alger, who both stepped off the historical slab of Vermont granite and retired to the speakers' platform, when the last two verses of "America" were sung and the benediction pronounced by Dr. Marten.

One of the flags which comprised the point of the star was given to the Gould party as a souvenir of the occasion. Just before her special train pulled out the party stood on the back platform, and led by Mr. Walker, gave three cheers for Three Oaks, Miss Gould heartily joining with the others. The special left Three Oaks at seven o'clock.

Mid-Season Styles in Hats in Fashionable PARIS

Some Reasons Why Early French Fashions Are Not Always Correct

DURING the past few seasons
French manufacturers of dress goods have learned a lesson.
Time was when they began early in the season to show every novelty their ingenuity could produce. New summer novelties were placed upon the market in Paris with the first breath
of spring, and it was always possible to tell just what the season would offer from one to three months before the season had arrived.

Now the same manufacturers and designers are wary of their novelties,
and keep them carefully concealed until the season is fairly well advanced.
If they have anything to offer that does not give promise of attracting fashionable attention, they bring it out early, and for a reason.

The reason is because they want the English, the German, the Austrian, the American manufacturers to copy it, make up a big stock of it, and then find that they have been sold and left with a stock of unsalplush pink roses, and masses of tender green leaves, with here and there a half-opened bud, nestled under the brim at the left side, and then again

surmounting the drapery of pink velvet
and veiling of tulle which is around the crown and tied in a loose bow at the left side.

Another of the charming midseason hats is a broad-stranded straw loosely plaited to form the brim and quite high crown. Around this is a wreath of closely clustered green leaves with little buds peeping out here and there, giving just a hint of tender pink which is revealed in a full-blown rose. A silken rosette in pink and yellow, with two long ends
at one side.

A charming hat in rush straw has a band and bow of black velvet, lined with gauzy crinoline straw in pink.
A bandeau of black velvet in front,
with geraniums massed together,
with long stalks gathered in clusters
and looped up over the brim.

One of the pretty little evening
toques is of turquoise blue chiffon, all tucked and draped at one side into a foamy rosette from which a long osprey sweeps gracefully over the crown.

Another pretty toque is of white silk, tucked and corded on a high crown; the brim softened with a drapery of tucked tulle, with foamy
rosette and butterfly bow in front,
and cluster of blush pink roses.

A pretty toque is of pale mauve straw, with a transparent brim of

SOME PRETTY MID-SEASON HATS.

able goods upon their hands. They feel that this is but just retaliation
for their own loss of previous years,
when they brought out their choicest novelties only to find them copied by foreign manufacturers in good time for the opening of the season. It was that that caused the French manufacturer to change his methods, and instead of giving to the world his really new and valuable novelties, he palm off upon those who have previously swindled him his unsalable ideas, and to-day the early French season is always well filled with the things that will not be fashionable.

To those who are posted, and who have some little "pull," it is not a difficult task to get an idea of the right thing, and so it is that while Paris shops are displaying one class of goods the fashion writers are telling of another class that will come later, and for which everybody excepting the transient visitors to the city are patiently waiting.

Hats, quite as much as dress goods,
come within this class of wrong ideas, and the hats that are being sold and worn in Paris to-day are much different from the hats that were displayed as the mid-season's novelties two months ago.

The leading hat of the midseason goes well with the empire gown, for it is a revival of a style of our ancestors—the leghorn hat. They are, however, different from the ones our ancestors knew, for then they did not have the long drapery effect, and were not tilted as to-day. Of these hats the most distinguishable feature are the new pastel shades of roses, in old blue, and dark bluish green tints. Then there are pinks, nasturtiums, bluebells, w. at, bluettes and pansies, with many odd blossoms that have not been in vogue for years. On the same hats foliage is extensively used in natural effects, such as ivy, begonia, grasses, violets and rose leaves.
Very few clumsy or weighty goods are used on them for trimming, as the hats themselves are so large, and being well shaped do not require it.

Of the smaller hats there are the evening toques and evening bonnets, made of braid with combinations of tulle, swiss, chiffon, Brussels net and soft light silks.

Of the large leghorn hat one of the very prettiest has a drapery of tearose yellow chiffon painted by hand, with a curious wave-like design in black and white, the lovely fabric being caught down in front
by a huge black velvet poppy, while just a suspicion of an upward tilt is given to the soft brim at the left side,
with a black velvet bow and yellow
chiffon to finish.

Another of these leghorn hats is trimmed in sweet simplicity with drawn and wired tulle, edged with a plaiting of entwined bands of straw

and stitched mauve silk.

A small toque is of shirred white chiffon, with garlands of corn flowers around the brim, and with swathed
crown in aerophane to tone.

At the present time Paris is red mad. Everything has some shade of red in it, it would seem, and the shades run all the way from dark claret to the lightest tinge of pink.
For the past two years all these tints
have been more favored than any others, and it is clear, not only from the color cards for fall and consequently winter, but also from the opinion of the entire corporation of dressmakers, that red for a considerable time to come may be considered as the leading color. Bright scarlet, high grades of crimson, garnet, claret
and very attractive shades of pink will be the thing. With the same idea
a blending of two shades of the same colors, either presenting a direct contrast or following each other immediately in the color scale, will be a favored combination.

For fall wear pink promises to be a favorite color for outdoor wear. This will be noticeable not only in gowns
but in wraps and jackets as well.
These are for either afternoon or evening, but for the latter the favorite material will be stamped-out cloth
over a lining of either black or white.

Serve Salad Twice a Day.

Salads should be served twice a day.
Do not put a large plate of lettuce on the table for each guest to dress; but have the salad served neatly dressed, and nicely garnished. Sprinkle over your lettuce one day a few cold cooked peas; another day string beans finely sliced; another, chopped tomato;
chopped tomato and cucumber; a few
beets that have been left over, daintily chopped, or cold asparagus. Cauliflower may be covered with chopped parsley and served with French dressing.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in Ladies' Home Journal.

ST. JOSEPH
News Notes About the Bustling Lake Town
St. Joseph's Marriage Industry Roasted.
The clergymen, it is understood, propose to make war on the Sunday marriage excursion business between Chicago and St. Joseph. In a sermon on "Marriage and Divorce" Rev. E. B. Allen of Pilgrim Congregational church, Lansing said: "The shameful industry of St. Joseph, where scores of Sunday excursionists are married while they wait, is a blot on the state's escutcheons, a blow to the purity of the home and a menace to the nation. The craze began last year. It was a scheme of the town and the excursion company to get a crowd. The spirit of commercialism sold honor and dignity, and bid for traffic in the hearts of men and women. This year the business goes on. Increasing numbers petition for the suppression of the licenses. Thus the marriage altar is lowered in the level of a holiday lark, a frivolous incident of a Sunday picnic or frolicsome excursion joke."
Justice J. C. St. Clair is in Ann Arbor.
Tony Canavan has returned from Chicago
Lewis Mee, a drunk, was run in by the police Thursday evening.
A dancing party at the Boughton pavilion was attended by forty couples last evening.
The launching of the four larks of yacht club has been postponed until Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.
There will be a meeting of the members of the St. Joseph Yacht and Boat club in the city hall this evening.
A new pipe organ is being placed in the Episcopal church today. It is expected services will be held Sunday.
Chief Morton has found in an alley the brace stolen some weeks ago from Walker & Snelder's wagon shop. The brace was wrapped up in tissue paper.
A fire caught on the Pere Marquette water tank early this morning but was soon put out by the fire ladders, one of whom first fell in the water in the tank. Loss, twenty shingles.
Richard Black, a student in the Hyde Park high school of Chicago, has joined his father, Charles M. Black, and mother for the summer. The elder Black recently purchased the Canavan fruit farm a few miles out of St. Joseph.
A. G. Proctor is forming a syndicate of capitalists for the purpose of purchasing 300 acres of cranberry marsh at Grand Marre. The land is very valuable for growing cranberries as it can easily be overflooded in the winter and spring and thus be protected from frost.
Charles Dumke was arrested last evening for riding without a light. His wheel was held in default of fine amounting to less than $5. Eli Brown, a colored Benton Harborite who turned in his wheel as security for fine for a like offense, has not reclaimed the wheel and it will be sold by the proper authorities.
At the next meeting of the St. Joseph city council Mrs. Eliza A. Bracelin, wife of Attorney Bracelin, will present a bill to the city fathers asking $5,000 for injuries sustained by her because of the broken wrist caused by her recent fall on the public sidewalk. The bill in closing reads: "Mrs. Bracelin claims $5,000 damages. She is willing, however, to fairly and fully discuss the matter and is also willing to meet the city—represented by your honorable body—more than half way looking toward an amicable adjustment of the claim so that litigation may be avoided."

"And the Star Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

"The Union Forever, Hurrah! boys, Hurrah!"
"When freedom from her mountains height, Unfurled her standard to the air; She tore the azure robe of night And set the stars of glory there."
That's part of what Joseph Redman Drake, said about the American Flag on May 29, 1809. It's over 80 years ago, yet that same feeling of patriotism still exists in the hearts of all true Americans. The business world is the proof of this. American industries now load the world. We are all striving to advance our own localities. Moral:—PATRONIZE OUR OWN INDUSTRIES.
We start the ball rolling on June 26th and end it with sky rockets on July 4th.
